Why is the realignment occurring?

LANXESS Corporation is the flagship company for LANXESS in the U.S. Since the LANXESS acquisition of Chemtura Corporation (currently known as LANXESS Solutions US Inc.) in April 2017, the company has been working to consolidate and streamline systems and operations. Many of these systems and operations have been combined at this point. We have now reached a stage where it is feasible to fully integrate the legacy Chemtura systems and operations.
